Suzanne Phillips

Learner. Leader.
Speaker. Coach.

Suzanne Phillips is a speaker, visionary consultant, and parent and leadership coach with a passion for discipleship and intentional legacy. Suzanne co - founded and leads Beacon Parent with a mission to educate, equip and empower parents to live out God's design for family by shedding light on truth and on current culture. Watching the effects of current trends take root and impact students and families Suzanne felt prompted to launch Beacon Parent to more directly speak about culture and its impact. A beacon, by definition, gives both warning and direction.

Having co- founded and led two hybrid schools and a national ministry for moms much of Suzanne's speaking, teaching and parent coaching focuses on spiritual formation and educational options for families.

Suzanne is working on projects with Giant Worldwide and THINQ Media. She has been a contributor for Celebrate Kids Inc ,The Counter Culture Mom, Ignite the family and Awaken Moms and is currently a consultant for No Left Turn in Education.

KEYNOTES:

Shape or Be Shaped: Intentional Parenting in a Culture of Chaos

In today's world hidden dangers disguised as "cultural norms" are a growing concern for families, young adults and children. It is imperative that parents understand the enemy's culture of chaos. If you don't know culture, you do not fully know your child. Join Suzanne as she sheds light on several hidden dangers and destructive worldviews plaguing our children and their generation.

The Cultivated Home: Leaving an Intentional Legacy (Vision, Mission, Values)

Strong organizations are built on strong foundations, a strong foundation which includes a clear and concise vision and mission and operates with established core values. An organization is defined as a group of people who act together to achieve a particular aim. God designed family as the first organization. Join Suzanne as she shares inspiring insight and practical teaching around developing family vision, mission and core values. Learn to begin with the end in mind. It is never too early or too late to begin!

Education Defined: The Difference Between Education and Academics

Like so many things in our culture, education has been redefined. What was the original intent of education? The way you, as a parent, define education and success will impact your children, their futures and likely your relationship with your children. Join Suzanne as she shares a refreshing view of education sure to inspire great conversation, intentional choices and a desire for lifelong learning.

The Way of the Arrow: Parent with Purpose and Disciple with Direction

Have you ever had a Groundhog Day conversation, with a child, employee, trainee or student? One that goes something like this, "How many times do we have to go over this?" or "Didn't we talk about this last week?" Perhaps it is because time has been spent telling or teaching rather than on intentional training. Today's fast-paced culture has all but buried the true meaning of discipleship. Join Suzanne as she unpacks the hidden secrets in Proverbs 22:6 and casts a vision for leadership and discipleship sure to impact your relationships in a powerful way!

LISTENER FEEDBACK

"It is an honor to sit under Suzanne's teachings. She is full of practical life applications. Her wisdom and knowledge in the Spiritual Realm of life collides beautifully with the Secular/Cultural Realm. Suzanne is an amazing teacher and mentor, and I am grateful for her contagious courage that has been fuel to my fire in the fight for my family and children. I'm certain you too will be blessed by Suzanne's teachings and trainings."

DEAR LEGACY MINDED MOMS AND DADS...

... you CAN overcome chaos (distraction), confusion, and fear so that YOU can parent with purpose and disciple with direction.

It would be my honor to show you how.

Please feel free to reach out for any questions.

LISTENER FEEDBACK

"In a tumultuous culture, Suzanne's teaching has become the flagship for discipleship and parenting. Rooted in biblical truth, wisdom and practical application - that works! Suzanne is an invaluable leader and mentor. As a mom of five (ages 12 to 2), I have found her coaching to be empowering and uplifting and applicable for all stages of parenting."
